Getting Here: Pick Up & Drop Off

Kate's cookery classes take place in her home in Kilcolgan, Co. Galway, about 20 km south of Galway city. If you're coming by bus or train and don't have a car, you have two easy options to get to and from your class.

Class address: Galway Cookery Classes, 4 Roevehagh (Dunkellin), Kilcolgan, Co. Galway, H91 RHH9
Tip: search "Galway Cookery Classes" in Google Maps (not Apple Maps). Kate's is the last house in the estate, with a purple door.

Your transport options at a glance

Option 1: Kate's Pick Up & Drop Off from Kilcolgan Bus Stop

€15 pick up + drop off, up to 4 guests

- Pick up: Kate collects you at the Kilcolgan bus stop and brings you to class
- Drop off: after class, Kate brings you back to the Kilcolgan bus stop
- €15 in total covers both the pick up and the drop off
- Maximum 4 guests
- Get the bus from Galway City to Kilcolgan (about 25 minutes). Bus fare is separate and paid to Bus Éireann

How to book your pick-up or taxi

1. Book your class as normal.
2. Tell us which option you'd like (Kilcolgan pick-up or Galway City taxi) and how many people are travelling. Please let us know at least 24 hours before your class.
3. Bus option: tell us which bus (route and time) you'll be arriving on, and Kate will be waiting at the Kilcolgan bus stop.
4. Taxi option: tell us where in Galway City you'd like to be collected, and we'll confirm your pick-up time.

Coming from further away?

Shannon Airport is about 60 km south of Kilcolgan. Route 51 runs directly from Shannon Airport to Kilcolgan, so there's no need to go into Galway city first.
Ireland West Airport Knock (Co. Mayo) is about 100 km away. Take a bus to Galway, then Route 51 or 350 to Kilcolgan.
By train: Galway train station (Ceannt Station) is beside the bus station, so it's easy to switch to the Kilcolgan bus or meet your taxi.
